Itinerary

Please note that the itinerary may be subject to small changes depending on the conditions during the tour.

Day 1: Split, Omis

All aboard, it's time to start your sailing adventure! Meet your tour leader and group at 1:00pm at Split harbour. We will enjoy our first lunch on board together, before we set sail in the tranquil waters of the Adriatic Sea. There are plenty of stops for swimming on the way to Omis, a small port located at the mouth of the Cetina River and surrounded by huge gorges. Historically, Omis was home to the fearful pirates whose fast boats were used to attack trade ships. In the afternoon, you can go white water rafting along the Cetina

Day 5: Korcula, Mljet

Time to say goodbye to Hvar and cruise down the coast to the forest-covered island of Mljet to see its stunning national park and big salt-water lakes. The salt-water lakes were formed about 10 000 years ago and were originally freshwater lakes until the Benedictine Monks dug out a channel to sea. You can still find their medieval monastery on the island of St. Mary in the middle of Veliko Jezero (Big Lake). Spend the afternoon visiting the lakes, go swimming, kayaking, or cycling around the island. Of course, no sailing trip will be complete without dressing like a pirate so tonight we will have our on-board 'Pirate Party' with a delicious BBQ and traditional Croatian cuisine. It's time to shake ye booty!

Day 6: Mljet, Dubrovnik

Feeling a little under the weather from last night's antics? Don't worry you've got ample time to relax and go for a swim before we sail to Omis, which has rich and turbulent history of pirates. Omis is located at the mouth of the Cetina River and is surrounded by massive gorges which is perfect for white-water rafting!

Personal Spending

The Croatian Kuna (HRK) is the official currency of Croatia. Debit and credit cards are widely accepted at the major mainland cities and tourist locations. However, cash remains king across the smaller island towns and can be easily accessed using ATMs. While every traveller's spending habits may differ slightly, we have estimated the average daily expenses to help with budgeting for your next trip. Here you will find the average cost for a meal or drink and advice for best practice in tipping.

Meals

Dinner at restaurant	US$ 15-20
Gelati Ice cream at a stall	US$ 2-3
Crni rižot (black risotto)	US$ 10-14

Drinks

Bottle of water	US$ 1
Coffee	US$ 2-4
Tea	US$ 1-3
Bottle of beer	US$ 3-5

Tipping

Tipping is not compulsory in Croatia but is encouraged for good service. If satisfied with service, round up your bill to the nearest Euro or denomination of Kunas in markets and basic restaurants. In more up-market restaurants or bars, we suggest tipping 5-10% of your bill. Your Guide and Sail Crew would also appreciate tipping as a sign of gratitude at the end of your tour.

Shopping

Croatia is covered in a healthy and unique smattering of shopping options, from open-air markets to modern malls, factory outlets, souvenir stands and quaint hipster boutiques. The best places to shop include the Old Towns of both Split and Dubrovnik. Hagglng is not commonplace in Croatia with most items on sale in both shops and markets being sold at a fixed price.

Lavendar products

Home to endless fields of blossoming and aromatic lavender, Croatia is the perfect place to shop for locally grown lavender products. Hvar Island is particularly well known for its hilly landscape fields and magnificent scent. From soaps to cosmetics, dried fragrance bags, essential oils and even lavender flavoured ice cream, Hvar has it all! Lavender products range in pricing with dried fragrance bags starting from 2 USD.

Lace

Croatia has a long tradition of lacemaking with certain threads protected by the UNESCO List of Intangible Cultural Heritage in Europe. Traditionally crafted to decorate costumes, tablecloths, and bedding - it's not uncommon to find elderly women selling their handcrafted small lace doilies down cobblestone alleyways and in marketplaces across the coastline and islands of Croatia. Prices for small doilies start at approximately 5 USD.

Glassware

Croatia has a great variety of arts and crafts but none quite as prestigious as glassware in the region of Samobor. Here you'll find the specialised traditions of glass making passed down through generations, resulting in the handicraft of anything from kitchen utensils to crystal jewellery. In most of the larger cities, there are daily demonstrations of glassblowing, bead making and miniature glass bottle production which travellers are welcome to attend. Prices for glassware start at 50 USD.

Weather

With a vast coastline to the Adriatic, Croatia enjoys a mild Mediterranean climate on the coast and islands, and a cooler continental climate inland around Zagreb. The best time to visit Croatia is during the summer months of June and August when temperatures sit comfortably between 25 and 30 degrees Celsius across the coastline. The months of May, September and October are also great times to visit if you wish to avoid the crowds and enjoy a cooler breeze. Please note that in October some bars and restaurants may be closed on the islands ahead of winter. Travelling with a tour leader ensures they can take you to the best places based on the time of year you visit! The winter months on the coastline are far milder and frequent rain can be expected.

Money Matters

The Croatian Kuna (HRK) is the official currency of Croatia. Debit and credit cards are widely accepted in the cities and tourist locations. However, we advise to carry some cash for small purchases from simple vendors and shops. ATMs are also widely accessible on the islands and ports. We recommend you do not exchange bulk sums of money at the airport, as the exchange rates are usually more favourable in the major cities. Your tour leader will be happy to help if you need any assistance.

Please remember that everyone has different spending habits, some prefer to spend more on souvenirs, some on experiences and others on a night out! Make sure to budget your trip to your spending habits for shopping, drinking, and tipping.

Tipping is not compulsory in Croatia but is encouraged for good service. If satisfied with service, round up your bill to the nearest Euro or denomination of Kunas in markets and basic restaurants. In more up-market restaurants or bars, we suggest tipping 5-10% of your bill. Your Guide and Sail Crew would also appreciate tipping as a sign of gratitude at the end of your tour.

Eating & Drinking

Croatian cuisine is varied and heavily influenced its surrounding countries. There is a clear divide between the Mediterranean-style cuisine with fish and fresh seafood playing integral roles in coastal dishes, and the flavours of the Balkans which are more prominent in the continental regions with heartier dishes such as stews. Nonetheless, each region within Croatia proudly promotes its own speciality dishes with unique twists.

Local beers to try while in Croatia include Karlovacko and Ozujsko while Rakija (brandy) is the spirit of choice with many restaurants offer a small glass before or after a meal.

Searching for unique and authentic dishes can often be overwhelming if you're not a local, so here's a few

Cevapi: Common throughout Croatia, these grilled skinless sausages are usually served with onions and ajvar (a red capsicum relish) on flatbread.

Crni rižot: Listed on early every Dalmatian menu as 'Black Risotto' this dish has a distinctive black colouring and satisfying flavour from the ink of squid and other meaty seafood cooked with risotto rice, onion, and red

Swiss Chard: This common Dalmatian cuisine of cooked greens and potatoes, seasoned with olive oil and garlic to accompany grilled seafood including sea bass, sea bream or squid.

Pasticada: Slow-cooked beef dish served with gnocchi.

Paski Sir: Produced on the Island of Pag in Croatia, this popular hard cheese is produced from the milk of specific sheep and is known for its pungent taste from the sheep's aromatic herb diet in the region.

Travel Talk Croatia Sailing tours include fresh breakfasts and lunches prepared by a professional chef and crew each day. Breakfast consists of a continental array of cereals, yogurt, bread, cold meats, cheese. While lunches consist of hot meals, typically two to three courses prepared by a chef onboard.

If you provide your dietary requirements at the time of booking, we will do our best to make the necessary arrangements. Please note that if you do not inform us of any dietary requirements before departure, these may not be available, or you may be charged a surplus on the boat as the Chef will have to make extra arrangements for alternate meals.

Internet Access

Complimentary Wi-Fi is available in many hotels, cafes, and restaurants across Croatian mainland and islands. Travel Talk's Croatia Sailing boats do not offer onboard Wi-Fi, however with plenty of stops throughout the day comes opportunity to access free Wi-Fi. Please note that 3G/4G Data connection may be unavailable at times while sailing.

Culture and Traditions

Croatia is a land steeped in history, captivating traditions, and cultural heritage. Croatian people are immensely proud of their country. Their colourful culture is deeply rooted in its vast history and reflected in its wonderful architecture and monuments. Due to their cultural and historical significance, UNESCO has inscribed several monumental sites in Croatia on its World Heritage List, including the old city of Dubrovnik and historical areas of Split. The country holds its cultural richness with a mixture between European, Mediterranean and Balkan traditions. The Slavic heritage of Croatian people is especially evident throughout the display of charming festivals and national holidays, where cities and villages come to life in traditional costume, folk music and feasts. The bulk of Croatia's cultural and traditional festivals take place in the country's capital, Zagreb, in the Spring and Autumn. Although, Dubrovnik and Split also offer a lot in the way of heavyweight music, culture, and drama festivals. The Croatian calendar is also dotted with religious holidays, featuring church processions and celebratory feasting.

Religion, Etiquette and How to Dress

Croatia hosts a largely Catholic population, with religious holidays and occasions seen as of significance in the yearly calendar. There are also groups of people who identify as Eastern Orthodox, Protestant, and Muslim. Along the coastline and on popular islands, Croatians are accepting of summer clothing such as sandals, t-shirts, shorts and skirts. When at the beach, onboard the Sail boat or at swimming areas, swimsuits are acceptable. However, it is not considered acceptable to walk around the Town Centres in swimwear. In fact, both Dubrovnik and Split have issued bylaws that allow fines for anyone walking around the towns wearing swimwear only or shirtless. Tourists and locals can be fined 1,000 Kuna (160 USD) for being 'In a swimsuit or without their clothes or part of their clothes'.

Please note that religious sites will require you to cover your shoulders and legs when visiting. Travel Talk recommends bringing a set of clothing with you appropriate for such occasions and encourages female travellers to have a scarf to wear around shoulders or waist at religious sites.

Solo Travellers

We have many solo travellers joining our tours. Solo travellers will be roomed with another traveller of the same gender. If you would like a private solo room, subject to availability and a single supplement, please contact us

Rules to Follow

We are committed to ensuring a safe and enjoyable experience for everyone. We do not tolerate any form of violence (physical or verbal), bullying or harassment involving customers, partners, Travel Talk staff or locals. Sexual relationships between a tour leader and a passenger are forbidden.

We will not tolerate any illegal activity, including but not limited to: use and possession of illegal drugs, trespassing, and disrupting public order. If you consume alcohol, please ensure that you drink responsibly and follow the local laws and regulations.

You must follow the advice of your tour leader and local officials regarding health and safety measures. We operate all tours under Safe Travels protocols for the wellbeing of our passengers, staff and communities visited. Please ensure that you have read the <https://www.traveltalktours.com/safe-travels/> and are fully prepared for your trip.

If someone is acting inappropriately regarding these matters, please notify your tour leader immediately or contact us on the emergency contact number provided below.

Your tour leader has the right to remove from the group anyone not abiding by these rules, with no right of compensation or refund. See more at <https://www.traveltalktours.com/booking-terms/>

Please remember that our travellers come from different parts of the world and will have various needs and preferences. Be understanding and patient with your fellow travellers, and always strive to be on time.

Responsible Travel

We believe that travel is a force for good and show our support through various initiatives and charity organizations, as well as keeping the principals of responsible and sustainable travel at the core of our ethos. These values are engrained in our business culture and the design of our trips just the same. Together with you, we strive to make a positive impact on local people and economies, respecting the local culture, environment, social fabric and customs; encouraging respectful and meaningful cross-cultural exchange.
